“I’ve met some of the most amazing people living in the residence halls — people who will become lifelong friends. And there’s always someone around when you need a study break or a workout buddy.”

— Caitlin, student

“When you get bored you can just walk down the hall and find someone to hang out with in the residence halls.”

— Sarah, student

“Living on campus has helped me network and get involved with events that helped me gain experiences that I can take into the work force.”

— Myles, student
Our campus is small: our college life is close-knit. And there will be so much to do — get involved in Hall Council, join clubs like the award-winning BPA (Business Professionals of America), play intramural sports, and participate in events right in your hall. DU also has 26 sports teams to cheer on.

Living on campus puts you close to classes, the library and your social life. Join something already going on or bring your ideas to start something new. Everyone is welcome!
